Pehchaan voice recording kit

Why we need this: to test our voice-clone detector honestly, we clone our own voices (with consent) using several AI voice tools, then check whether the detector can tell the clone from the real person — in Indian languages and over real phone lines. Real recordings of you are the "genuine" side of that test. Most teams will only test on English academic datasets; this is our edge.

Time needed: about 12 minutes of speaking per person, plus one 3-minute phone call per pair.

Before you start: read and sign the consent form (`CONSENT_FORM.md`). No consent, no recording.

How to record

- Quiet room. Turn off fans/AC near you, no music or TV.
- Use your phone's voice recorder (Voice Memos / Recorder app) or a laptop mic. Hold the phone about 15–20 cm from your mouth.
- Speak the way you would on a phone call — natural, not a slow "reading" voice. Different speeds and emotions are good; for the role-play lines, act it out.
- Leave a 1–2 second pause between lines. If you stumble, just say the line again.
- One file per section is fine. WAV is best; M4A/MP3 from a phone is OK.
- Female speakers: change the Hindi verb forms to feminine (गया → गई, करता → करती, बोल रहा → बोल रही).

File names

Each person gets an ID: `S01`, `S02`, `S03`, `S04`. Name files like this:

| Section | File name |
|---|---|
| A. English lines | `S01_A_en.wav` |
| B. Hindi lines | `S01_B_hi.wav` |
| C. Mother-tongue lines | `S01_C_te.wav` (use a language code: te, ta, kn, ml, mr, bn, gu, pa, or, ur...) |
| D. Free speech | `S01_D_free.wav` |
| E. Phone call (pair) | `S01-S02_E_cellular.m4a` and `S01-S02_E_whatsapp.m4a` |

Put every file (and a photo or scan of each signed consent form) in `D:\hackathons\amazon-raksham\data\raw\recordings\` on the build laptop. Don't post them in group chats or public drives. They are kept out of git.

A. English (about 1.5 min)

Everyday call lines:

- E01 Hi Ma, I reached the hostel safely, I'll call you after dinner.
- E02 Can you send me the electricity bill amount? I'll pay it on UPI tonight.
- E03 The meeting is shifted to four thirty, please inform the rest of the team.
- E04 I'm stuck in traffic near the metro station, start without me.
- E05 Please check if the courier has arrived, the tracking says it was delivered.

Scam role-play lines (fictional, act them out):

- E06 Papa, it's me. I've had an accident and the police have taken my phone.
- E07 Please don't tell Mummy, just send fifty thousand rupees to this UPI ID right now.
- E08 Hello, I'm calling from your bank's fraud department. Your account will be blocked today.
- E09 Sir, to stop the transaction, please read out the six digit OTP you just received.
- E10 This is Inspector Sharma from the cyber cell. You are under digital arrest, do not disconnect.
- E11 Transfer the amount for verification; it will be refunded within one hour.

Numbers and mixed sounds:

- E12 My UPI ID is ravi dot kumar at the rate okaxis, and the amount is twelve thousand four hundred.
- E13 The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog while the sun sets behind the hills.
- E14 Account number ending four seven two nine, IFSC code S B I N zero zero one two three four.
- E15 Thank you for calling, have a good evening, and please stay safe.

B. Hindi (about 2 min)

- H15 फ़ोन करने के लिए धन्यवाद, अपना ध्यान रखना। Phone karne ke liye dhanyavaad, apna dhyaan rakhna.

C. Your mother tongue (about 1.5 min)

If your mother tongue is not Hindi or English, say E01–E11 in it, the way you would naturally say them on a call. Don't translate word for word. Mixing in English words (as people really do) is fine. Start each line by saying its number ("E-zero-one...") so we can line them up later.

If Hindi is your mother tongue, skip this section, or do it in any other Indian language you speak well.

D. Free speech (about 4 min)

Unscripted speech matters: AI voices mostly copy read speech, so real conversation is the hardest test. Use any language or a mix (Hinglish is great).

1. About 1 min: describe what you did yesterday, from morning to night.
2. About 1 min: explain to a friend how to make your favourite dish.
3. About 2 min, in pairs: role-play a phone call. One of you is a parent, the other is a student calling from the hostel about fees, an exam or travel plans. Keep it natural, no script.

E. Real phone call (pairs, about 3 min each)

This gives us genuine speech after it has passed through a real phone network, so the detector can't cheat by learning "phone quality = fake".

1. Speaker A calls Speaker B on a normal mobile call. B records the call, either with the dialer's built-in call recorder or by putting the call on speaker and recording it on a second device.
2. A reads E01–E05 and H01–H05, then you chat for about 1 minute.
3. Repeat the same thing as a WhatsApp voice call.
4. Swap roles if you have time.

Tell each other that the call is being recorded. Everyone on the call must have signed the consent form.
